Title: The Transformation of Health Professions Education: "To Dare Mighty Things"

Dr. Gold will address the challenges of the current healthcare education model, identify the reasons for changing the paradigm, and share the University of Nebraska approach to ensure that healthcare education is truly relevant for the times. This includes preparing healthcare professionals to provide the safest, most compassionate, and high quality care for patients as they transverse a complex health care system. The ultimate goal of the UNMC Transformative Model (iEXCEL) is to meet the Triple Aim of Health Care: Better Quality of Care; Better Population Health, and Lower Costs of Care through improving human performance and effectiveness.
