The University of Nebraska-Lincoln College of Engineering is proud to offer competitive merit based scholarships for current first-year students on our City and Scott campuses who participated in the Project Lead The Way (PLTW) curriculum in high school. Students who attended a certified PLTW high school and have completed coursework within the PLTW curriculum are encouraged to apply for this scholarship. The scholarships are one-time awards in the amounts of $500 to be applied to the spring 2018 term. Five scholarships will be awarded annually.

Applicants must meet the following scholarship criteria in order to be considered:

- Enrolled as an undergraduate, full-time student in the University of Nebraska-Lincoln College of Engineering on the Lincoln or Omaha campus.
- Attended a certified PLTW high school
- Completed at least two (2) PLTW full year courses and earned a grade of B (80%) or higher in each
- Earned a 6 or higher on the PLTW course End of Course (EOC) assessment for each course

Note: PLTW courses are ONLY one full year of IED, POE, CEA, CIM, DE, AE, ES, EDD, CSP, or CSA

Applicants must submit the following PLTW scholarship application materials by the application deadline October 1, 2018.

- A Nebraska Engineering PLTW scholarship application
- A completed PLTW teacher form

Please return your completed PLTW scholarship application and PLTW teacher form to Engineering Student Services c/o:
